TROOPERS GIVEN ENTERTAINMENT

Several Hundred Dirty Americans, Just Out of Trenches See Performance.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Thursday, May 23—(By the Associated Press.)—Seldom has a theatrical entertainment been staged in a more unusual atmosphere than one given this afternoon which enabled several hundred dirty American troopers just out of the trenches to get back for an hour or so to the atmosphere of Broadway. An open air platform was the stage. Airplanes purr overhead and the booming of the guns on the front was plainly heard.

The platform is located on a cross road on a hill from which the German borderland opposite the Toul sector can be easily seen. Of an evening some of the energetic youngsters of the American army are wont to while away the hours of rest between trench tours by putting on the gloves.

The performer who today trod the boards of this unique stage was Miss Elsie Janis now on a visit to the front to give entertainments for the fighters. She told stories, sang songs and danced. When a German airplane soared in the sky not so far away and the American anti-aircraft guns began bursting shrapnel around it, the performance stopped for a moment while Miss Janis stopped and asked if there was any chance of her being killed because she didn't want to be as she had work to do tomorrow.

The assembled doughboys, thick on the ground around the stage and perched on the house tops everywhere within hearing and seeing distance yelled in chorus, "No; keep on! Cheers and applause were frequent during the show."

At the conclusion Miss Janis offered to show the men the new dance steps and several accepted, including one "mule skinner" who caused much amusement by his eccentricities.

OGDEN EXCHANGE TO AID IN BUYING

J. C. Hall of Denver spent part of the week in Ogden giving the livestock situation the "once over." He was formerly in the stock business in this section of country and said he was pleased to visit the old "roundup grounds."

It is Mr. Hall's belief that Ogden will in the near future excel Denver and other markets as a livestock exchange. He says that Ogden now has better livestock facilities than Denver had a few years ago and that its importance as a buying center of the west will increase rapidly.

ADMITS SHE KEPT AFFAIR A SECRET

Grace Lusk Explains Letter in Court—Did Not Mean "Eliminate" Mrs. Roberts.

WAUKESHA, Wis., May 24.—Grace Lusk, after testifying that she could remember nothing regarding the killing of Mrs. Mary Newman Roberts, for which she is now on trial, was forced to admit on cross-examination today that she had sought to keep her relations with Dr. David Roberts secret for more than two years.

During this period she admitted that she had warned the veterinarian to be careful in talking with her on the telephone; that she had sent him letters in care of his secretary; that she had on one occasion urged him to register under a fictitious name with her at a Chicago hotel, and that they had a mutual agreement that their letters should be unsigned and should be destroyed as soon as they were read. Miss Lusk also admitted that she had not confined herself to facts in several statements made in unmailed letters to Mrs. Roberts regarding her intimacy with Dr. Roberts.

Although she could remember nothing regarding the actual shooting of Mrs. Roberts and declared that she "never, never, never intended to do it," she admitted that she had a clear recollection of events immediately before and after the tragedy. She declared that Mrs. Roberts had threatened to have her driven out of town and had likened her to a dog and a woman of the streets.

Intended to Kill Herself

After the tragedy, Miss Lusk told of going to her room and firing her pistol out of the window to see whether it was "jammed" with the intention later of using it to take her own life. She had no recollection of firing the first shot into her body, but fired the second because she no longer cared to live after being told that Mrs. Roberts was dead. Miss Lusk testified on cross-examination that the first time she had urged that Mrs. Roberts be told the truth was on May 18, 1917, a little more than a month before the tragedy.

On the cross-examination, which was conducted by Walter D. Corrigan of Milwaukee, a letter addressed to Mrs. Roberts which never had been mailed was read after Miss Lusk had admitted writing it. This was the letter introduced earlier in the trial by the state over the protest of the defense that their client could not be forced to give evidence which might tend to incriminate herself.

Wanted Affair Disclosed.
"You wanted the affair disclosed to Mrs. Roberts in the expectation that she would step aside," she was asked. "I did not know," she answered. "Did you think she ought to have done so?"

"If she did not care for him and he did not care for her, that would be the logical thing."

Mr. Corrigan then read a section of a letter from Miss Lusk to Mrs. Roberts, which Dr. Roberts intercepted, as follows:

"I have lost my reputation while you have kept your throne; it really isn't quite fair, is it?"
"You thought it fair that she give up the doctor?" he asked.
"Yes, if she understood the situa-

THE CALL TO LEADERSHIP

SO faithfully is the pledge of prolonged service built into Globe Tires that hardly a tire is ever returned, found even slightly lacking—in long life and great mileage.

While other tires have yielded, inch by inch, to the pressure of big-volume machine-made production, the makers of hand-made Globe Tires have stood their ground unshaken, holding sincerely to the high purpose of putting all the mileage into a tire that science and honest craftsmanship possibly could.

GLOBE TIRES GUARANTEED 6000 MILES

REDUCE THE OPERATING COST OF YOUR CAR

Whether your car cost $500 or $10,000, this long-lived wholesaler of mileage will translate your horse-power into a surpassing whirl of smooth, resilient motion.

The "spring" built tread

The unique GLOBE TREAD is hand made and consists of layer upon layer of pure, sun-dried plantation gum. Built like a multiple-leaved spring, it radiates road shocks instead of transmitting them into the body of the tire.

The double breaker-strip

The double breaker-strip is a thick cushion of rubber-saturated fabric, welded to tread and carcass with adhesive sheets of live gum. It shatters and dissolves the impact of blows, securing the safety of the carefully built Sea Island cotton duck carcass, which is the heart of the tire and the part you cannot see.

The "concrete" bead

The straight-side tire is bound at the rim by a special and almost indestructible bead made of 95 strands of interlaced copper-tin wire reinforced with live gum, on the principle of reinforced concrete, and vulcanized into a resilient cable that prevents anything working its way in and injuring the tire.

These unique features explain Globe Tire pre-eminence, account for Globe Tire service in long life and great mileage, and justify the Globe conviction that tion," Miss Lusk replied.

Reads Portion of Letter.
Mr. Corrigan then read a portion of an unmailed letter addressed to Mrs. Roberts, found in Miss Lusk's desk after the tragedy, as follows:

"In order to keep your reputation, you so-called good moral women make the other persons do the sinning so that you can continue to live your parasitic lives."

"What did you mean by the word parasitic?" he asked.

"Women who live lives of ease and do nothing for society," she replied.

Another part of the letter was then read, which declared that Miss Lusk had not taken Dr. Roberts's pursuit seriously until she was slighted by Mrs. Roberts at a church affair and "vowed to get even."

In answer to questions, she said that she had not meant this and had done nothing to "get even."

She also admitted several statements made in the letter regarding her intimacies with Dr. Roberts were not true.

"In the eternal triangle," the letter read, "the only solution is the elimination of one of the members, the two remaining being those whose affection is mutual."

"Did you mean the elimination of Mrs. Roberts?" she was asked.

"No; I meant at that time to kill myself," she replied.

Miss Lusk will take the stand for the continuation of her cross-examination tomorrow.

U. S. TROOPS WILL SOON BE IN ITALY

NEW YORK, May 24.—Secretary of War Baker announced in an address here tonight in celebration of Italy day that American infantry, American machine gun units and American artillery soon would be fighting shoulder to shoulder with the Italians on their front.

The feature of New York's celebration of Italy day was a meeting tonight at the Metropolitan opera house at which the chief speakers were Secretary of War Baker; Count V. Macchi di Cellere, the Italian ambassador, and Charles E. Hughes, president of the Italy-American society, which arranged the nation-wide demonstration to mark the third anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war.

There was great applause when a letter from President Wilson was read expressing his admiration for Italy. Colonel Theodore Roosevelt also paid "homage to the Italian nation and to the Italian army for their brilliant and heroic record for the last three years."

President Wilson expressed his regret at being unable to voice in person his "admiration for the great Italian people who are engaged with us in the great struggle now going forward for securing the rights of free men."

At the close of the meeting a group of young Italians presented to Secretary Baker an American flag which he announced he would place personally in the hands of the flag bearers of the first military contingent of the United States which leaves to join the Italian army on the Italian front.

Recent reports from Rome have quoted King Victor Emmanuel as expressing a desire to see American soldiers on the Italian front and it has been well known that Italy as a whole would welcome American fighting forces. Official announcement, however, was not given until tonight by the war department that the United States would meet this wish. It is presumed that word of the proposed action was withheld to form a fitting climax for the Italy day celebration when the people of Italy and the United States pledged faith one to the other.

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE TO AID WORK OF REGISTRATION

A letter was received yesterday by Chairman E. M. Conroy of the Weber County Council of Defense, from Capt. F. V. Fitzgerald, draft disbursing agent for Utah, in which the captain makes the suggestion that the council of defense assist in every way possible the registration of men on June 5 who have reached the age of 21 during the past year.

Dr. Conroy conferred with Chairman A. R. Heywood of the city board and Mr. Heywood assured him the board would be glad of the proffered assistance and would accept the help of three registrars. Mr. Conroy will appoint these in a few days. Captain Fitzgerald's letter follows:

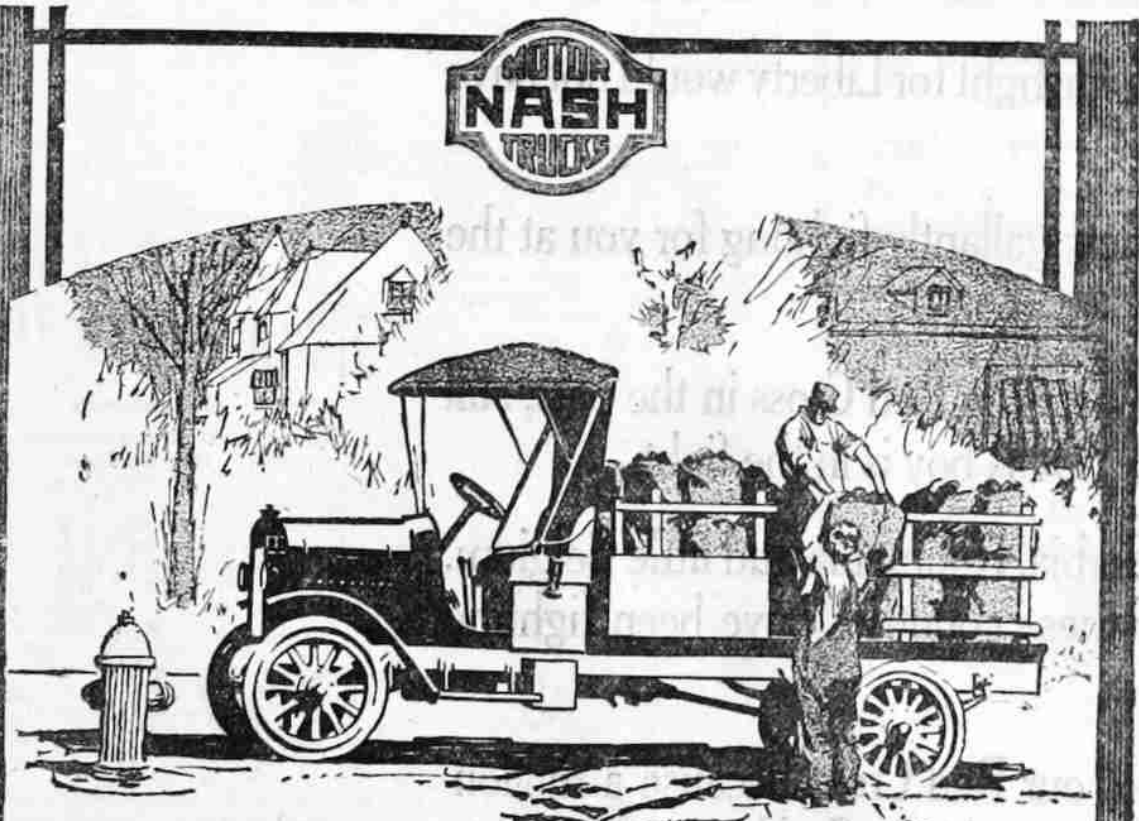

"To County Councils of Defense: "The registration of all men who have become 21 since June 5, 1917, will be accomplished on June 5, 1918. In order that the registration may be a complete success it is necessary that each local board have the fullest and most complete co-operation of all members of county councils of defense and all other war workers in each community."

"It is particularly desirable that county councils of defense cause the widest possible publicity to be given to this registration and see that announcement of the date of registration and of the serious consequences that may result from failure to register be made at all churches and at all public gatherings."

"Members of county council of defense are also expected to volunteer their services to several local boards who are in charge of the registration and to assist these boards in every way possible."

"F. V. FITZGERALD, "Captain, Infantry, U. S. R."

of a July adjournment, the president, at a conference with Senator Simmons of North Carolina, chairman of the senate finance committee, agreed to withhold his decisive word until he secures more information.
